

What to Do If You Have Lost Your Cat

- Go to trianglelostpets.org and submit a listing. Also search the listings to see if anyone has found your cat. Check those listings daily.
- Create a flyer at <http://www.petbond.com/flyerentry.php> or on your own. Make sure to put a good description and include a close-up photo. Offer a reward.
- Laminate the flyers or put in plastic covers and hang all around neighborhood. Take the flyers to local veterinarian offices, pet stores and local businesses.
- Send out an email to your HOA (if you have one) with the flyer attached and post on NextDoor, if available in your area.
- Contact via phone and in person all local shelters. You can find the municipal shelters on trianglelostpets.org under the “Pet Resources” section.
- Alert all of your neighbors to keep an eye out for the cat and to let you know if they see him/her.
- Borrow a humane trap from a local shelter and set it as soon as possible to try to capture your cat.
- Place a lost pet ad on petfinder.com and in local newspapers.
- Activate your microchip: let the company your chip is registered with know that your pet is missing so they can alert the local network!
